FOREWORD

Although the Office of Education has been collecting and publishing information on nonpublic schools periodically since 1889-90, this is the first nonpublic school directory in recent years in which the Office has included elementary as well as secondary schools. It includes all nonpublic elementary and secondary schools operating during the school year 1965-66 for which the Office of Education has the necessary information. Institutional information is given on religious affiliation, day or boarding status, type of student body, grade span, classroom teachers, and enrollment.

All schools responding to an Office of Education questionnaire and falling within the limits of the survey are included in this directory. Such inclusion does not imply Office of Education evaluation or sponsorship.

This publication should be particularly useful to colleges and universities seeking information about schools from which applicants for admission present transcripts. It might also be of service to Federal and other governmental agencies, educational publishers and suppliers, individuals and groups interested in research or planning in the area of nonpublic schools, and other organizations or persons who need a nonpublic school directory for reference use.

In preparing this directory, assistance was obtained from State departments of education, associations of independent schools, and from area and diocesan superintendents of religious-affiliated schools. To all of these, the Office of Education owes a debt of gratitude. Special appreciation is due the principals, headmasters, and other officials of nonpublic schools across the Nation who supplied most of the information contained in this publication.

INTRODUCTION

This publication is a directory of nonpublic elementary and secondary schools in the United States and outlying areas of the United States as of the school year 1965-66. It presents institution name and address and some basic data. The information shown here was obtained from the "Survey of Nonpublic Elementary and Secondary Schools, October 1965" (OE Form 2227). National, regional, and State, estimates of enrollment, staff, and other selected characteristics derived from that survey are published in "Statistics of Nonpublic Elementary and Secondary Schools, 1965-66" (OE 20111, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 1968).

Scope and Coverage of the Directory

Nonpublic schools are schools which are supported by means other than public taxation or public grants and which offer instructional programs generally equivalent to those of the public elementary or secondary schools. Included in this definition are parochial and diocesan schools, privately operated sectarian schools (profit-making or nonprofit), private college preparatory schools, military academies, laboratory schools of private colleges and universities, private evening schools at the secondary level, and those privately operated schools for the deaf, blind, mentally retarded or otherwise exceptional children which offer a program of general elementary or secondary education.

If a nonpublic elementary or secondary school also offers instruction at the nursery, kindergarten, postgraduate, or junior college level, that fact is indicated in the "grade span" column of the listing. Schools specializing in training for specific skills--such as reading clinics, business and vocational schools, and schools offering preprimary (nursery and kindergarten) instruction only--were not included in the directory.

Other schools specifically excluded from the listing are those financed exclusively by public funds, whether local, State, or Federal, such as publicly operated schools for special education or schools conducted on military reservations or in correctional institutions.

It should be noted that privately sponsored academies, attended more or less extensively by public school students at public expense, are also included. These institutions are found mainly in New England in towns or villages where the academies are long-established and may have predated the enactment of universal compulsory education laws. Tuition for public school students is paid by public authorities, thus eliminating the need for dual school establishments. If these schools are shown as nonpublic in State Education directories, they have been included in this directory with their entire enrollment considered as nonpublic.

Some schools were not included in the directory because address and other data could not be matched without undue delay in publication.

Arrangement of Directory Data

1. States and the District of Columbia are listed in alphabetical order, with outlying areas of the United States following this listing.

2. Within each State or other area, cities, towns, and villages are also listed alphabetically. The place listed is the mailing address, which may differ occasionally from the physical location of the school.

3. Within each city, town, or village, schools are listed alphabetically by the name of the school. Names beginning with "The," as The Summit School, are alphabetized on the second word.

Abbreviations

Space and operational limitations unfortunately required the abbreviation of many names and addresses. The longer place names are abbreviated in accordance with U.S. Post Office recommendations.

Religious Affiliation

The following symbols are used:

N A.....Not affiliated

BAPT.....Baptist

C R.....Christian Reformed

FRND.....Friends

B.....Boarding school

C.....Combined day and boarding school

Type of Student Body

The following symbols are used:

N.....Nursery

K.....Kindergarten

UE.....Ungraded elementary

US.....Ungraded secondary

PG.....Postgraduate

JC.....Junior college

Number of Classroom Teachers

This figure shows the number of full-time plus the full-time equivalent (F.T.E.) of part-time teachers. An F.T.E. value is obtained by counting a part-time teacher as a fraction of one full-time teacher. A part-time teacher teaching 3 days a week receives an F.T.E. value of 0.6, while one who teaches a half-day every day is counted as 0.5. These fractions, as reported by the schools, were added to the number of full-time teachers, and the total rounded off to the nearest whole number to represent the total teaching staff.

Total Enrollment

This figure represents the number of pupils on the rolls on the reporting date, rather than composite enrollment for the entire year.

NOTE--The use of asterisks (*) in the data columns for certain schools indicates that data for these schools were not available for the current study, although the school had participated in previous surveys and was believed to be still in existence.
